HISTORY

For the last 20 years, Pulse Uniform has dedicated its shopping platform to bring you the best products for all your medical needs. From medical uniforms and apparel to shoes, athletic wear and accessories, Pulse Uniform has been a proud partner of big brands to supply you with all your medical uniforms, their utilities and accessories. In this effort Pulse Uniform created its subunit called HeedFit dedicated to bringing you the finest quality of labcoats.

Since its inception in 2022, HeedFit has slowly grown in the US and North America by providing perfectly fitting lab coats of style and superior quality, HeedFit has made its mark in the uniform industry while keeping their products functional and affordable for all. And it is because of this tremendous success that HeedFit is now enthusiastically marching towards expanding their reach into the rest of the uniform universe.

A man is captured in a dynamic running pose, leaning forward with his arms pumping. He is wearing a black long-sleeved athletic top, bright neon green shorts, black leggings with white reflective stripes, a black beanie, and a black digital watch on his left wrist. His running shoes are black with neon green accents. The background is a blurred cityscape, suggesting an outdoor urban environment.
